Between Us

With our weather so changeable, it's hard to know what to wear to what. Last week at one of the parties some girls had on real spring while others wore fur coats. But judging from the windows it's very easy to see what season is approaching. And it seems all the merchants are filling their windows with the prettiest suits, dresses, etc., and the necessities this year make it seem as if some of everything they have. In some of the windows I see Lila Blitch at home from G. S. C. V., looking very pretty. Mrs. Dan Gay and little Nancy Lee down from Chicago to visit Sue Watson, with an attractive friend. Funny hearing them comment on our cold weather. Friends of Willie Snow Eberhartz, formerly of Macon, are in the home of Mrs. A. J. Klonz, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Whiteville, offering to come off press. It seems to be getting quite a bit of publicity already. And speaking of books, right in our midst we have one of the prettiest books of poems I have ever read. It is written by Ruth Kirk, a girl who is a sister of Mrs. L. C. M. and is a book of poems. This is a book you would be proud to own or give to a friend. It is a book of poems of our gift shops. I am hoping some organization invites Miss Skipper to read some of her poems. We never know when we have genius right in our midst. Wonder why the Fred Darby does not have a garage apartment? It's a grand size, and I'd like to rent it. Jimmy and Helen Cope Thomson have such an attractive garage apartment. Often we see front yards and never know people have lovely flower gardens in the back. Ann Oliver, Edna Brannen and Cora Smith have such pretty gardens, and Lula Grimes has the only real sunken garden here. I think... So many going up to her Jan Garber in Augusta this week. And so many couples on the floor all you could do was barely move. I will see you.

CIRCLE MEETING

Mrs. W. H. Simmons left Thursday for New York to visit her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Thayer, and to be present at her graduation from Piedmont Hospital.

NOVEL "T" CLUB

The Novel "T" club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Julian Tillman at her home near the college. A program of gladioli was tastefully arranged about the room in which her tables were placed for bridge. A pot plant for top score was won by Mrs. Wilbur Cason. Mrs. B. C. Mullins, who made low, and Mrs. J. R. Vansant, who cut consolation, each received twelve dollars. The hostess served a salad course.

BRIDGE PARTY

Numbered among the lovely social events of the week was the bridge party Wednesday afternoon given by Mrs. Fred T. Lanier and Mrs. R. L. Cope, at the home of Mrs. Lanier, on Zetterow avenue. Her living room and dining room were thrown together and beautifully decorated with sprays and other spring flowers. After the assembling of the guests a congealed salad was served with sandwiches and coffee. High score was made by Mrs. Glenn Jennings, low by Mrs. Frank Oliff, and consolation by Mrs. Hinton Booth. Ten tables of guests were present.

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Kennedy entertained very delightfully at their home on Saturday evening with a dinner party honoring Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Buffkin, of Chadbourne, N. C. The dining table was beautiful with a centerpiece of white sprays and lilies of the valley, tall silver candelsticks holding white candles graced either end of the table. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Buffkin, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Simmons, of Metter; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tillman, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Tillman, Mrs. J. D. Tillman, Mr. and Mrs. Durand Kennedy, of Statesboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Mildred Griffin. The bride and groom entered to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, and during the ceremony "To a Wild Rose," by McDowell, was softly played. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used as a recessional.

The bride was attired in a grey suit trimmed with silver blue fox fur. Her accessories were of navy blue. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of lilies of the valley.

SAVANNAH BICYCLISTS COMING NEXT WEEK

Statesboro is to have on Saturday of next week a motorcycle of unusual interest—a group of twenty or more youngsters from Savannah traveling in a cross-country bicycle race. This group is sponsored, it is understood, by the Savannah Kiwanis Club. The start will be from Savannah at noon on Friday, from where the route will lead to Jasper, Bailey and Lyons for Friday night. Leaving Lyons Saturday morning the party will come by way of Swainsboro, and to Statesboro for lunch, thence to Savannah in the afternoon. The local member of the group is Ted Knip, a recent citizen who came here from Savannah.

MOVING TOWARD NEW ENTERPRISE

People of Bulloch County Asked To Pass Judgment on Desirability of Manufactory

In the advertising columns of today's issue will be found notice of the coming elections for the city and county to express themselves upon the question of tax exemption for certain proposed new enterprises.

Specifically the proposal which has prompted this election is that which has recently been discussed, the establishment of a garment factory in Statesboro. Promoters for this new industry, representing a large manufactory in the east, have recently spent some time in Bulloch county. During that time a survey was taken to open in Statesboro within a year. Last spring the Statesboro Live Stock Commission Company (F. C. Parker Sr. and F. C. Parker Jr., owners) began business and has been operating weekly since that time. That concern will continue to hold their weekly sales on Wednesday as usual. The new market will hold sales on Tuesday of each week.

Mr. McLemore at the close of the day's sales expressed satisfaction at the outcome, stating that he sold approximately 600 head of hogs, with top bringing $8.60 to $8.70. Two hundred cattle were sold, with good cattle bringing from 7 to 7 1/2 cents a pound. One large steer was sold which weighed 1,600 pounds.

STATESBORO HAS NEW STOCK MART

McLemore Yard Has Successful Opening With Interesting Exercises Tuesday

Attended with an interesting program of speech-making in which a number of local leaders participated, the Bulloch Stock Yard, owned and operated by O. L. McLemore, made its initial bow Tuesday. Scheduled to formally open at 12 o'clock, the exercises were delayed from two to three hours by the influx of livestock, so that it was almost 3 o'clock when things began moving according to schedule. Among those who spoke at the opening, facilitating Mr. McLemore and the community upon the new market was Mayor J. L. Renfro, Dr. M. S. Pittman and S. W. Lewis, president of the Bulloch County Bank.

VOL. 45—NO. 52.

As we look back now over the field of those who have been co-temporaries of the Times, the number is surprisingly large. The high moment of newspaper activity was attained in the year 1894, when, for a brief time, there were in existence five newspapers, not exactly for public consumption. Namely, the one Bulloch was operated by J. A. Olmstead of M. Rushing; the Statesboro Star by the late J. R. Miller; the Silver Lake, established and operated short time by R. Lee Moore; and a religious paper operated by Rev. H.

COTTON prices are up! Make the acres you plant this year produce the largest yields and return the greatest profits possible. The use of plenty of potash is cheap insurance for getting the results you want. You will be surprised how little it costs to get more potash in your cotton fertilizer. Southern experiment stations recommend applications of 400-600 pounds per acre of a fertilizer containing 4-6% nitrogen, 8-10% phosphoric acid, and 4-10% potash. Where rust has appeared use 8-10% potash and a nitrogen-potash top-dresser if necessary. See your fertilizer dealer or manufacturer for mixtures high in potash.

Consult your county agent or experiment station on the right fertilizer for your own farm. Write us for further information.

TOMORROW'S IS UN

BY J. C. WILSON

Newspaper Features, Inc.

No intelligent American wishes to be a scaphant. President Roosevelt would be the last man to desire it. He believes in the right of the people to make up their minds independently about matters of government, and at the moment is sponsoring, through the department of education, public forums where groups of citizens get together and discuss, pro and con, the merit of various important issues before the nation today.

One of the subjects being discussed in the government forums in Atlanta is the proposal of President Roosevelt to increase the supreme court to fifteen members. The president himself would disapprove of those who might, in the words of Dorothy Thompson, famous woman newspaper writer, declare: "O. K. Chief; Fix it like you wanna, Chief! Oh Kay!"

While the people most certainly have given the New Deal three tremendous endorsements at the polls, they have not expressed or implied an obligation on the president or the congress to alter the present status of the supreme court, nor, as the phrase has developed, to pack it. "It is generally conceded that a packed jury, a packed court and a stacked deck of cards are on the same moral plane."

Many of the strongest supporters of President Roosevelt have found it necessary to oppose him on this issue. In view of their previous staunch support and friendship, their position in the opposing ranks at this time is given greater significance. Even such Democratic stalwarts as our Senator Walter F. George have arrayed themselves against the proposal. In the case of Senator George this position is unique, because, one of the strongest administration leaders, it was not at all unlikely that he had remained silent on the supreme court proposal and were it to become a law, he would be named to that august body. Senator George knew this. He has been frequently mentioned by political observers as a likely appointee to the court when the next vacancy occurs. His stature as a lawyer and statesman fits him for such appointment, but Senator George believes it would be a mistake to pack the supreme court.

George Washington in his farewell address made a comment that is so applicable to the present supreme court controversy that it might have been written yesterday. It is as follows: "If, in the opinion of the people, the distribution or modification of the constitutional powers be in any particular wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way which the constitution designates. But let there be no change by usurpation, for though this in one instance may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed. The president must always greatly overbalance in permanent evil any partial or transient benefit which the use can at any time yield."

Another distinguished Georgian who has arrayed himself against the supreme court packing is Representative Eugene E. Cox, who, in a scathing attack on the Wagner anti-lynching bill, declared: "The bill is unconstitutional as the law is construed by the supreme court as now constituted. It is one of the measures that the court with enlarged membership is expected to validate." Congressmen Cox said the anti-lynching bill would work the "complete destruction of all the state power and center absolute control in Washington."

With this array of opposition it would seem improbable that the administration could muster strength to force adoption of the measure. Liberals and conservatives have condemned it. Yet every man to his own view. The president himself would be the first to defend that right, but, regardless of his own opinion in the matter, we may hope that he will not force upon us a supreme court packing measure that the citizens do not want.

A customer whose average Electric bill is less than $1.15 a month says-- the money-saving, health-protecting benefits of Electric Refrigeration. Food and milk are safe from spoiling for days. "Left-overs" taste just as good a day or so later. There are always plenty of ice cubes ready, too. Just think of it—she gets the finest refrigeration for only 6¢ a day. Food savings alone more than pay this small increase in her electric bill.

And what else can you do. If your electric bill is a little more than hers, it will cost you even less for Electric Refrigeration. That is because the more electricity you use, the cheaper it gets per unit.

Science improved on Nature to give you

MORE NITROGEN for the MONEY

THAN IN ANY OTHER "SODA"

Knowing that the reason crops need soda is for the NITROGEN, Arcadian scientists spent millions of dollars to produce a "soda" that would be richer in nitrogen than any other kind. And they did just that in Arcadian, The American Nitrate of Soda. Arcadian contains more nitrogen per ton than any other "soda." It actually gives you extra nitrogen at no extra cost. Insist on Arcadian when you buy.

POTASH

OF THE

South Carolina Five-acre Cotton Contest

CONGRATULATIONS TO: Mrs. C. B. Smith, Mr. P. M. Arant, Mr. J. F. Hopkins and other prize-winners in the contest . . . NV POTASH SALUTES YOU!

CLEMSON COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE awarded first prize in South Carolina's Five-acre Cotton Contest to Mrs. Carrie B. Smith of Johnston, Edgefield County. Mrs. Smith's yield on five acres was 6,640 pounds of lint, with a staple length of 1 1/2 inches. This was the largest yield produced during the 11 years of the contest in which approximately 9,000 farmers have taken part. Second prize went to P. M. Arant of Pageland, Chesterfield County, S. C., who had a yield of 6,265 pounds of lint. J. F. Hopkins of Mayesville, S. C., stood high in the contest, winning first prize in the middle district with a yield of 6,080 pounds of lint, which was the third largest yield. The winners were announced February 26, 1937. The contest was inaugurated in 1926 to improve the staple length of cotton and produce cotton more economically through improved fertilization, cultivation and boll weevil control.

B. B. ("Uncle Bob") SMITH, husband of Mrs. Carrie B. Smith, who won first prize, with a yield of 6,640 pounds of lint on five acres, says: "Mrs. Smith planted Coker's Cleve-will No. 4 seed and used 1,450 pounds of fertilizer per acre, 300 pounds of which was NV MURIATE OF POTASH. She used part of the nitrogen as a top-dresser and the remainder of the fertilizer before planting, putting it down in three bands. She sure made me keep a close eye on that patch of cotton. For years I used 6% potash in my regular cotton fertilizer, but Clemson College said I was short on potash, so I started using 10% potash. I made larger yields and the 10% potash completely prevented Rust."

P. M. ARANT, Pageland, S. C., winner of second prize, with a yield of 6,265 pounds of lint on five acres, says: "My five acres got a ton of my regular fertilizer at planting and then 2,800 pounds of top-dresser composed of Nitrate of Soda and NV MURIATE OF POTASH in equal parts. On my general crop I put down 300 to 400 pounds of complete fertilizer per acre at planting, chop out and then put 100 pounds of Nitrate of Soda and 100 pounds of NV MURIATE OF POTASH per acre around it with a distributor. I work it fast and with any kind of a decent season, we always make a good crop of cotton."

Between Us

Back again at the old typewriter after roaming around. I see some of the high school set horseback riding, others on skates and still others out Saturday night on bicycles. Liz Smith, Leonora Whiteside and Margaret Remington reading the school paper. Lena Belle Banner entertained one afternoon last week and carried out the St. Patrick idea. And her refreshments were served on the loveliest Wedgewood china. The center of each plate has a view of Western College, her alma mater. You have no idea how beautiful there are, and in years to come they will be even more valuable to her. A great college. Several weeks ago in the Atlanta Journal they showed the similarity of the lovely movie stars with Atlanta people. Had you ever stopped to think how much Willie Groover resembles Billie Burke? There is some girl at the college that looks very much like Pat Kelly. Speaking of likenesses, had you ever thought how much Dr. Cone and Mr. DeJarnette look alike. The latter is a living memorial to a Noble Soul. Georgia Progress Day at the college going to be very interesting. Friday afternoon's pageant to begin with founding of Georgia up to present time. Local band being invited to play "Star Spangled Banner" in one of the North Mall to prevent "sit down strikes." To those who saw "Camille" it hardly seems possible that Robert Taylor had never met Garbo until the filming of this picture. Machine in local drug store attracting such attention we thought there must be going on. It's easy to find out the very reason when you pass by there. Barbara Franklin seen on streets with costume in getting ready for "Amateur Night." Atlanta bannings loud radios after 11 o'clock at night should see a visit. The story goes that at the wee small hours of the morning last week a boarder at one of the local hotels was annoying the others in the house until the landlady was asked to go up and stop the noise. She went up and found the "litterer" sound asleep. So far. I. Elizabeth Sorrier, Mrs. Evelyn Williams, Miss Mary Mathews, Mrs. Ralph Howard, Miss Cecile Brannen, Mrs. James Bland, Mrs. Henry Hill, Mrs. Louis Ellis, Mrs. Dorothy Brannen, Mrs. Fred T. Lanier Jr., and Mrs. Wilburn Woodcock. Mrs. and Mrs. J. L. Matthews.

A marriage of cordial social interest in Statesboro and throughout Georgia was that of Miss Sara Lane Aikens to Robert E. Fort, of Millen, formerly of Dublin, Ga., taking place Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The ring ceremony was performed before an informal gathering of friends and southern amix by Rev. C. M. Coakson, pastor of the First Baptist church. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Jimmy Thompson, accompanied by Mrs. Roy Beaver, sang "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly" and during the ceremony "To a Wild Rose" by McDowell, was used. The bride, who was dressed in dark blue triple crepe with yellow "Kenne" in black. Local band being invited to play "Star Spangled Banner" in one of the North Mall to prevent "sit down strikes."
